Circus offers us so many opportunities to learn in a fun and physical way – indoors or out, but summer is the best for extended hours to practice! In this summer session, we'll learn some history, two circus skills that explore balance and pattern with common household objects, and some hoop skills with professional circus-style hooper Jenny Hill. Students will leave this 90-minute online session (that can be enjoyed outside on a smartphone or tablet) with enough circus skills and ideas to start a backyard circus. Sign up as friends or siblings, and create a circus performance to wow your family or neighborhood – creativity comes alive with the circus!

Supplies & Materials:

- ★ Pool noodle (or long peacock feather, clean toilet plunger, kitchen spatula, dowel)
- ★ Three light scarves or three plastic grocery bags
- ★ Hula hoop*
- ★ An open space to move in (can be indoors or outdoors if it's a sunny day)

* Inexpensive hoops can be purchased at Five Below, most grocery stores in the summer, Wal-Mart, Target, and most drugstores. Test the hoop out to see if it's a good fit for you and it is solid enough plastic that won't bend easily.

Presenter: Jenny Hill is a performer, poet, playwright, and arts educator. She is the author of six books of poetry and two books of prose, and is a multidisciplinary artist who explores the fascinating connections between writing and movement. Jenny runs variety shows, online classes, and performances from The Wunderbarn, a 19th century barn she turned into a theatre. Students will get a brief tour of The Wunderbarn, where they may meet Oz, the barn cat, or any of six ducks who hang out in the green space in front of the theatre. You can find Jenny online at www.actsofjennius.com.
