School-To-Work @ Lebanon Valley College (LVC)

School-to-Work equips high school students with a variety of disabilities with more than just post-secondary transition outcomes. It provides an inclusive experience with their same-age peers on a college campus and in the surrounding community.

For more than 20 years, the School-to-Work Program classes have been the foundation for successful transition programming. While our experience is extensive and widely recognized throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, this unique location affords our learners a hybrid experience — working and volunteering in the community while experiencing life on a college campus. Each learner's experience will be unique to their individual strengths. The program includes instruction in the areas of employment, daily living, personal management, functional academics, self-determination, recreation, and leisure.

Lebanon STW Team:

- Full-time Teachers
- Full-time Paraeducators
- Job Trainers
- School Psychologist
- School Social Worker
- Special Education Consultant
- LVC Staff and Students

Student Competencies: Guidelines for Referral

The program is a community-based vocational training experience. Due to the nature of the program, students who are candidates for School-to-Work @ LVC must display the following attributes:

- A desire to work
- Parental support for employment
- Socially appropriate behavior in community settings
- Personal care management
- Ability to navigate safely in the workplace
- Ability to follow directions and policies
- Willingness to participate in self-determination activities
- Willingness to learn and to try new experiences

Classroom

School-to-Work is situated on the campus of Lebanon Valley College, in the heart of Annville.

Student Activities

School-to-Work Program students use a daily personal evaluation form to self-monitor their work readiness and individual goals.

School-to-Work Program students prepare for a life of independence by:

- Setting individual goals
- Preparing a resume
- Developing a portfolio
- Learning the skills to obtain/maintain employment
- Participating in community-based instruction
- Generalizing classroom skills in an inclusive setting with same-age peers
- Training in traveling independently in the community for work, social, and self-care activities
- Securing agency linkages to adult services
