Are you in need of some adventure after being cooped up this year? Do you like exploring creeks, wetlands, or rivers? Do you like hiking and discovering wildlife in an outdoor environment? If so, this is the day for you! Take a break from the summer heat and spend a refreshing day with Lancaster County Park naturalist Lisa J. Sanchez and staff from the IU13 Student Services Program. Together, we will investigate and experience the science and fun of water. By jumping in, you will see the connection between water and the living organisms on our planet. You can touch the critters living in the water, learn how to keep our water clean, and explore the woods around the creek for signs of life. When summer temperatures rise, water offers fun, cool refreshment, and awesome opportunities for scientific discovery.

What to Bring/Wear:

- Backpack/drawstring bag with lunch, snack, and drink; filled water bottle. Insect repellent, hat, and sunscreen are recommended.
- Dress for outdoor exploration, including a creek study. Water shoes or old sneakers will be required in the creek. To ensure a safe experience for all, we will remain outdoors throughout the day.
- Signed Lancaster County Dept of Recreation Waiver & Release of Liability form – Download HERE
