Educators face a number of unique challenges, both inside the classroom and out.

We offer a variety of products and services that were developed specifically for the types of issues that educators experience. But we don't stop there. If we don't have a product or service that meets your need, we'll work with you to develop one that fits. Our goal of improving student learning starts with partnering with those who know their students best—educators.

Serving Administrators:

For administrators, improving student learning happens on many levels, in the classroom, business office, board room, and beyond.

At IU13, we use our experience to help you do exactly that. Whether it's professional development for you or your staff, programs designed to save you money, professional resources, or collaboration and networking, we have a number of products and services geared toward making your job easier.

Serving Businesses/Municipalities:

As an education service agency, we have a great deal of experience in educating people of all ages, supporting organizational leaders in their work, and developing cost-saving measures like collaborative purchasing.

We can help you with workforce training, safety and security measures, collaborative purchasing, and HR and technology consulting. We even have a state-of-the-art Conference and Training Center. We can also develop customized training sessions for your company.

Serving Our Community:

At IU13, we understand that the students, families, schools, and businesses we serve don't stand alone—together we are all connected.

As part of our community, we offer a number of products and services to the public and to help make our community even stronger. From electricity programs designed to save you money to adult education, employment opportunities, volunteer positions and more, we put our resources at your disposal.
